San Diego Shows How, the American Way !

ADVERTISING IN THE BROOM BENEFITS CANDIDATES

San Diego is the melting pot of the U. S. A. & sets the example to the rest of the nation how to handle race and minority problems: the American way. We had an election which was preceeded by a daring, yet dignified campaign in which each of the contestants had perfect freedom of speech, press and radio, no violence, no smearing, no bitter race baiting, yet when the votes were counted, the issue was decided: the American way.

About eight years ago when the Golden Lion Cafe was being picketed because the late Louis Provost employed some Chinese cooks, veterans of world war 1, I did not like this racial discrimination on the part of the A. F. of L. and showed how to expose it to public view, by picketing the pickets. For about 8 months, during the noon hour, I paraded before the Golden Lion Cafe and gave those labor racketeers tit for tat until the patronage of the Cafe doubled in size and the A. F. of L. withdrew its pickets since they constituted an advertisement instead of a determent. I placed my faith in the good sense of the American public and won. Following my example the method of picketing pickets spread all over the nation.

Peaceful picketing, though, is not the successful weapon of ruining a man's business, so labor racketeers resort to violence and threw me in the San Diego bay when I crossed the longshoremen's picket lines in 1936. I took the case to court, in Joe L. Shell's court, and convicted my assailants by the testimony of their own witness, since nobody dared witness for me, even though several people had seen the incident.

Later on I initiated the famous penny sales-tax in Joe L. Shell's court. I won out in his court, lost in Harding's, won again in appellate court under Haines, lost in California Supreme Court and landed on Certiorari in the U. S. Supreme Court, where it failed on a technicality. I acted as my own attorney. In the various cases I had a chance to watch Judge Shell perform on the bench.

In San Diego we had an example of attempted packing of the Courts, when O. E. Mark was displeased with Judge Chas. C. Haines, over a divorce decision and tried to unseat him. The Broom exposed Mark so thoroughly, packing the court was not successful in our city.

In San Diego the Silvershirts started to stir up race riots against Jews. The daily papers which carry much Jewish advertising dared not defend the Jews, but The Broom jumped into the fray and the Silvershirts were broken up and stopped their activities in this city.

Then came the famous Jewish boycott and secondary boycott of those who refused to accept Jewish dictation and boycott German-made goods. I denounced secondary boycott as I always do, as dictatorship, and the instigators decided to put me out of business. They terrorized my advertisers thru secondary boycott, and still do, so I am left almost without adv. revenue. But the people resent this tyranny and many business men now make donations to prove to themselves that they still are Americans.

When The Broom could not be put out of business by terrorizing advertisers, the FBI got busy terrorizing subscribers. Since Pearl Harbor, wherever they found The Broom in a private residence they asked the residents whether they didn't know that de Aryan was under suspicion by the "government" as being subversive and a Nazi. This, of course, scared many subscribers, but our circulation in San Diego city and county is still 1000 with more in the state and nation.

When even that did not stop The Broom, the F B I brought charges twice before the Federal Grand Jury in Los Angeles, on sedition, but upon getting acquainted with me personally, the Grand Jurors returned no indictment. So the Jewish and Labor racketeers went directly to F D R who summoned Biddle and ordered him "to get tough", and they pulled off the raw deal. A stool pigeon was employed to ask for two copies of The Broom mailed to D. C. so that a D. C. Grand Jury could issue an indictment upon command of F. D. R., in place of evidence, and in this un-American, illegal way I was arrested, jailed, taken in handcuffs and leg-chains to Washington. After 6 months I freed myself thru a petition for habeas corpus which was too hot for the court to handle so my bail was reduced and the president of the American Bar Association bailed me out by presenting his personal check for the premium.

I returned to San Diego and was treated as a hero and martyr, but the Jewish boycott is still on.

WEINBERGER WANTS MORE THAN HIS RIGHTS

Here I met Marion Fay, a young, very idealistic woman, a Christian Scientist who despises the press and radio for its crude sensationalism. She believes God inspires the President & asked me to discontinue publishing a sensational paper if I wanted her friendship. She also is opposed to all violence and Jew-baiting and is a Bellamy-socialist. She believes in the power of Christian Love as the solvent to all mundane problems. But she is a petulant snob.

I was certainly delighted to meet such an advanced mind, but could not understand how God was inspiring the President to bomb innocent men, women and children as a solvent to mundane problems, an example of Christian Love, and on that issue we parted company. But the short acquaintance was very fruitful for The Broom and myself. I realized what she had in her heart as an ideal newspaper, as the Monitor originally had intended to be, and so I set to work to gradually grow personally into that kind of a man and with it transform The

Three Times in Jeopardy

At the socalled "mass sedition trial" in the District of Columbia, which really is a historic trial that will go down into the annals as the Trial of the Republic before a New Deal court, by means of which the Newdealers hope to terrorize all supporters of the Constitution into acquiescence to its dismemberment by Newdeal Fiat, one of the defendants, Robert Noble, of Los Angeles, is placed in jeopardy three times for the same (alleged) offense. So hard up is the prosecution for evidence of sedition that it drags this man out again to convict him a third time for the things he was already tried and convicted twice before, once in the Los Angeles Federal court and a second time in the Sacramento county court of California.

Together with Noble, Ellis O. Jones is also dragged for the third time to be tried, convicted and sentenced for the same alleged offense.

In his opening address to the jury in D. C., Prosecutor Rogge said that Ellis O. Jones and Robert Noble, organizers of the Friends of Progress, addressed a meeting held after Pearl Harbor at which Noble said that "Pearl Harbor was not a part of the United States and that the United States had not been attacked". Jones, Rogge said, praised the Japanese for "doing a grand job".

Another defendant, William Dudley Pelley, has already been tried and convicted by a Federal District Court in Indiana of sedition, now the same subject and evidence is dragged out a second time to place him in jeopardy over again for the same offense. Similarly Ferenz, a defendant convicted with Noble and Jones in the Sacramento court, is being dragged over the same ground a second time to be punished additionally on the same evidence. While Kunze has been convicted and punished for "aiding to avoid the draft", this action will be used to convict him of conspiring to sedition.

It is fearfully strange when the Newdealers must violate the Constitution twice and three times by multiple jeopardies, in order to taint a woman, like Elizabeth Dilling, with complicity, when they are unable to charge and convict her on plain sedition. This is the damnable part of this whole procedure in the District of Columbia, that, in the first instance, the Attorney General found no grounds for indictments but after Jewish and Labor racketeers contacted the President, Biddle was ordered "from on High" to snap out of his constitutional and legal scruples and "get tough".

There is the whole picture.

Justice Department Is Not "The Government"

If some clever defense lawyer in the famous "sedition" case now on trial in Washington, D. C., will go over to the U. S. Supreme Court library and take a look at the papers filed by both the FEDERAL PROSECUTION and the defendants during 140 years of the court's history, he will find that the prosecutors are NEVER referred to as "the GOVERNMENT".

It is only in the Roosevelt administration that its officials have arrogated to themselves the claim of being "the government".

For Messrs. Rogge and Burns, the prosecutors, to refer to themselves as "the government" is gross disrespect to our Constitution.

It invites a sanctity to their indictments, motions and conduct, which is not compatible with our laws and institutions, and "stacks the cards" of prejudice against every defendant who has to face them.

All records of the Supreme Court testify to their technical title as "counsel for the United States", or "attorneys for for the U. S.", or simply "the prosecution", as sanctioned by the code, 18 U.S.C. 563, (R.S. 1034).

(In England the prosecutors are never called "the government", but "the King's counsel").

Although here there is a "State government" in every one of the 48 States, no "State's attorney" would ever dare refer to himself as "the government" in prosecuting an offender. He is referred to as "the State's attorney", or the "the prosecutor".

America is unique among the nations in having both a "Federal government" and 48 "State governments", all being composed of three divisions of government, with the legislative in each case being Constitutionally the most important (by a two-thirds' majority).

The great Jefferson spoke as follows: "A remarkable thing about our America is that ONE MAY BE 100% FOR THE GOVERNMENT AND 100% AGAINST THOSE WHO ARE RUNNING IT and still be 100% AMERICAN".

We see how the great founder distinguished between our "governments" (Federal and State) and those who run them.

Our COURTS (judges and clerks) are as much a part of our government as the executive or prosecuting branch; but the very basic bedrock of the courts is to be IMPARTIAL, whereas the "prosecutors" are allowed some partisanship as between "plaintiff" and "defendant".

If the judge, his clerk and the juries go over to the "prosecution", the angel of justice is poisoned and dies, while the republic itself perishes.

Let us cease this wicked calling of Justice Department prosecutors "the government". It tends to prejudice every patriotic juror. He wants to be "loyal to his government", as he should be, BUT NOT TO PARTISAN PROSECUTORS.

The defense attorneys should, in justice to their clients, refer to U. S. prosecutors as THE PROSECUTION.

Let's Uphold Due Process of Law

Mr. James J. Laughlin, Attorney at Law
National Press Building, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Laughlin:

Since the D. C. Bar Association is scared out of their manhood and refuse to collect a fund to help the 15 attorneys drafted by Chief Justice Eicher to defend the penniless victims of Newdeal Persecution, even though I am living on charity at present, I realize that the men who are to uphold the historic honor of American due process of law, must eat, while defending the rights of those before the Bar of Chief Justice Eicher. I am certain that every reader of THE BROOM will follow suit and do his and her bit by contributing to a joint defense fund to be distributed by you, or a committee appointed by the 15, as the need arises among the 15. Since the trial will last between 3 to 9 months, of course, no lawyer can afford to ruin his private practice by doling out 100% charity service. Not only do you fellows give service, but you incur expenses, contingent with clerical and other work.

For the sake of protecting the honor of American courts which traditionally insure a fair hearing and defense to every defendant, I am herewith splitting with you men my own bread-money for next week and am enclosing $10. May the Lord bless you for the courage and valiant stand you are taking for Americanism and the Republic. You cannot fail, you dare not fail!

If "they" can drag 29 people out of home-districts to charge and try them among strangers, they can drag every political opponent. That spells the end of the Republic. I shall repeatedly send you my mites for I am fully aware that we are in greater danger on the home front than abroad of losing our country and its liberty.

Sincerely, yours
C. LEON de ARYAN.

ROGGE'S CHARGE, PURE "WINDOW DRESSING"

WASHINGTON,— "The Battle of the Potomac" had settled down to comparative tranquility with 29 codefendants in the war's largest sedition trial.

The courtroom was relatively as quiet as an old maids' home at siesta hour after the day before's outbreak of enthusiasm, yells and vigorous objections to almost every spoken word.

Defense counsel asked for a mistrial on the grounds that prosecutor O. John Rogge had based his opening statement to the jury on "prejudice and vicious falsehoods", delivered in a setting "suggesting a Bowery barroom brawl".

Six separate motions for a mistrial were offered and Judge Edward E. Eicher reserved ruling on each. He overruled two motions for a directed verdict of not guilty.

Lawrence Dennis, one of the defendants who is acting as his own attorney, charged that 95 per cent of the federal prosecutor's opening statemen was "window dressing".

He added: "You can't have political freedom . . unless the people have the right to create political disunity and to impair faith in the commander in chief. If you can't you have a one party government, a one man dictatorship, a fourth and fifth term. If you can't critize the president, how would you ever get him out?"

Dennis was still going strong when Judge Eicher cut in with the announcement that court was adjourned until Monday.

"It's A 'Purge' Trial In Washington", Administration Now Admits; Lawyers Vindicated

New Deal Judge, Prosecutors and Jury Get Down to Hearing Case, After 4 Weeks Halting Start

WASHINGTON, May 15, (Special)—Just four weeks ago the famous purge trial of 30 Administration critics, opened in the court room of Justice Edward C. Eicher, crowded with 29 defendants, 23 defense lawyers and a host of newspaper correspondents, mostly left wing, including the "daily Worker" of New York and the "Tass" news agency of Moscow.

Armed deputy marshals, standing around the room and amidst the crowd, gave the place a grim and forbidding appearance, but the protests of defense counsel caused them to be removed within a couple of days.

Not a "Sedition" Trial

Newspapers generally and incorrectly have referred to this as a "sedition" trial. The defendants in the weird indictment, are technically alleged to have "CONSPIRED" to cause insubordination in the armed forces, "with an INTENT to undermine their morale!"

Not For Actions in War Time

In WAR? Oh, NO! In peacetime, away back there long before Pearl Harbor, although this un-American law was only passed on June 28, 1940.

Well, what about that charge of "planning to establish a Nazi form of government here"?

There is no such law. Such a deed would not be illegal within itself. This is "window dressing" in the indictment, probably for its effect on the jury and the public.

Lawyers Fight — Laughlin Exposes Prosecution's Hidden Hand

Will history exonerate and lionize James J. Laughin of this city, who had the "guts" to stand up in court (as a court appointed attorney for Robert Noble of California) and fight the New Deal "government's" attempt to purge its critics? I think so.

FIGHTS WITHOUT PAY

Laughlin did some daring and amazing things.

Declared a legal newspaper of general circulation for the County and City of San Diego, in California, by Superior Court Order, January 15, 1932.

Entered as second class matter March 27, 1931, at the postoffice of San Diego, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

A Republican newspaper, standing for a clean sweep of the Augean stables. Fearless fighter for a truthful, just, vigilant and tolerant nationalism. Lover of the Constitution and the Founding Fathers. Defender of free speech and free press, as the foundation stones of the republican form of government. Opponent of injustice, tyranny and oppression, and of all "isms" except Americanism.

We Can't Squander Our Technicians

By F. C. WHITMORE in the SAT. EVE. POST

I am just back from three days in Washington fighting through deferments for eighty-seven chemists, chemical engineers, bacteriologists, microanalysts and mycologists for the War Production Board's penicillin program, which includes twentyone commercial producing plants and three university research programs. I am happy to say that at the moment it looks as though sixty-six of the needed men will be deferred. Deferment was refused for five of the men who are just about as necessary as any of the older ones because these five are only twenty-one years of age. Deferment of all but the 1944 class of technical students has now been canceled. This, with the attempt to put practically all men under twenty-six in the armed forces, means that this country is about to embark on one of the most remarkable experiments of all time.

This experiment means the practical elimination of technically trained men completing their courses between 1939 and 1948. During a highly technical war fought to lead up to an even more highly technical global peace and reconstruction such a canceling out of nearly ten years of our new technical men comes about as near to an attempt at national suicide as could be thought up by the most ingenious of our enemies. Hitler's plan for the United States is supposed to include our reduction to an agricultural and mining unit to supply raw materials for the master race. I don't believe that Hitler is smart enough to think of such a perfect device to destroy our present and future technical manpower reserves.

Other countries are not so prodigal with their trained manpower. Recently, Dr. N. A. Ragozin, a petroleum expert on a Russian mission to this country, visited Penn State to look over our petroleum work. He brought with him an interpreter. After we had finished our business on petroleum, I asked the interpreter if he would ask the doctor what they were doing about technical students in Russia. He expressed some curiosity as to what I meant, and I explained that we were putting our technical students in the Army and Navy. He seemed rather astonished, and explained that Russia had more technical students in the universities now than ever before, and that they were not limiting them to girls, but were training as many girls and young men as were able to do technical work. He then told the interpreter to tell me that, when the Russians take back a city that has been destroyed by the Germans, one of the first things they do is to rebuild the local university and fill it with students.

Remember he is fighting for principle and justice, as he sees it, without pay, for, although he also represents Edward James Smythe, Anti-New Deal pamphleteer of New York, Smythe, under the cloud of two years' indictment and persecution, has no money and has paid him nothing.

Day by day, while the grand jury panel is being mauled and exhausted, Lawyer Laughlin files various affidavits (bias etc.), motions, pleas and prayers, and seeing just what is back of this case, dares to address a petition to the President, asking him to call off the hounds, lest it cause a "Wave of Anti-Semitism".

PROSECUTION IS UPSET

Prosecutors Rogge and Burns (defendants say Mr. Burns' original name was "Bernstein") take on depressed looks. Too many lawyers against two men and the trial is not progressing as they had planned. Court-appointed lawyers refuse to act "according the Hoyle". Believing in their clients' innocence, they stand up and slug savagely.

The prosecutors (who improperly call themselves "the government") suddenly file a motion, asking the judge to cite Lawyer Laughlin for contempt, in that he filed his clients' "defamatory affidavits of bias" against the judge, in "good faith", as the statute requires.

This action by the prosecution is unique in American jurisprudence. But Justice Eicher joins in the motion, and assigns the contempt case to be heard by Justice Jennings Bailey.

Contempt Action Halts Trial

The trial proper is halted temporarily. The contempt hearing is sensational. Attorney Laughlin before Justice Bailey introduces evidence in advance of the trial proper, SHOWING JUST WHAT IS BACK OF THIS ADMINISTRATION "PURGE" OF ITS CRITICS.

FDR PERSONALLY BACK OF PURGE

Drew Pearson, columnist for 600 newspapers, is summoned as a witness by Lawyer Laughlin. He is shown a copy of a release by him published on March 26, 1942, in 600 newspapers, revealing that "FDR had called in Attorney-General Biddle and told him to 'get tough' with isolationist leaders" and opponents of Jewish power in the Administration, to indict them. Biddle was hesitant, but FDR was insistent.

Before Pearson answers, the "government" admits the truth of the FDR story ! ! !

MALONEY GETS BUSY

Next week (April, 1942) Wm. Power Maloney, the little prosecutor from New York who had had a Washington grand jury under his control since July, 1942, investigating not "sedition" but foreign propaganda (according to official court records), began to summon such Republicans as Dr. Gerald B. Winrod of Kansas, and Col. Sanctuary of New York, and a dozen other isollationists, including Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling and Dr. McDaniel of Chicago, Editors Garner of Kansas, Griffin of New York, Hudson of Nebraska, Baxter of California, and from their evidence alone brought an indictment against them and others to a total of 28 persons on July 21, 1942.

"Overseas Club" Dinner

The real genesis of the persecution began with the famous dinner of the Washington "Overseas Press Club", in which Red speakers urged that critics of the Administration be squelched by any means, fair or foul—"Get 'em on their income tax, the Mann act, anything, just so they are knocked out".

Felix Frankfurter was present and smiled his approval. Senator Vandenberg also present, was horrified. This was about six or eight weeks after Pearl Harbor.

FDR's instructions to Biddle finally bore fruit in this long persecution—three indictments, involving 41 persons, 11 of them being exonerated later.

Petitions Revised Persecution

When the second indictment was emasculated by Justice Adkins in March, 1943, and Prosecutor Burns announced that the new grand jury, in April, 1943, would be asked to correct the small technical defect of the second indictment and that, thereupon, the prosecution would be ready for trial immediately, it was the action of Hudson De Priest as attorney for himself, in immediately filing two unprecedented motions, one of approximately 5,000 words, requiring the new grand jury to receive only the fresh evidence of living witnesses, that halted the prosecutors in their tracks.

During the long lull in the spring and summer of 1943 it appeared that the prosecutors might drop their isolationist purge: but hundreds of petitions were signed by New Deal foreigners in New York and over the nation demanding renewed action.

A new grand jury was impaneled on October 25, 1943, and the present indictment was returned on January 3, 1944, with 11 names omitted, and eight new ones added, making a total of 30.

ATTORNEYS FINED

Justice Jennings Bailey, after what appeared to be a most fair hearing in the matter of defense attorney Laughlin, brought in a verdict Thursday morning, May 11, holding him guilty in the very language of prosecutor's petition and FINING HIM $150. He appealed.

At the very minute the Bailey decision is rendered, attorney Martin Popper, secretary of the National Lawyers' Guild, a left-wing outfit with Red leanings, comes out with mimeographed circular praising Justice Bailey and condemning the defense lawyers in general. The latter then ask a contempt citation against him, and even Prosecutor Rogge deplores Popper's conduct.

Thursday, May 11, is also marked by the nervousness of His Honor, Justice Eicher, who fines Attorney Ira Chase Koehne, representing three pauper defendants, $50 for challenging "ten-twentyninths of the upper anatomy of three of the jurors". This challenge was in serious vein, but it did express the mathematical divisions which the judge has arbitrarily fixed for defense challenges. Koehne at once appealed.

BAR ASSOCIATION TO MEET—AND HELP

The Bar Association of Washington is to meet this Monday night, May 15, to discuss the "sedition" trial.

Prominent attorney members have expressed their regret that such a mass prosecution of unrelated and unassociated defendants should take place in our nation's capital. They have been astounded at the strange trial taking place.

A movement is planned for the bar association lawyers to raise a fund to help the defense appointed lawyers appointed by the court to defend impoverished defendants.

Witnesses Under Wraps

Hidden from view, at great expense to the government, is the first group of prosecution witnesses to appear in the trial.

The judge has ruled government employees eligible to sit as jurors!

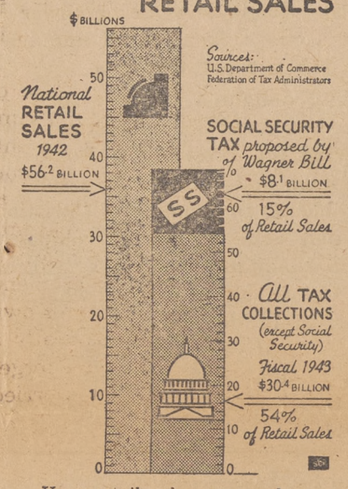
TAXES in Terms of RETAIL SALES



Here retail sales are used as a ruler, by which to measure the extent of tax collections during the last fiscal year and also the extent of the taxes which are proposed under the pending Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill for expansion of the present Social Security Act.

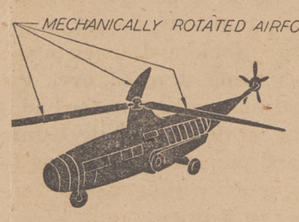
It's not always easy for people to picture taxes clearly. For example, merely saying that the Wagner bill proposes $8.1 billion dollars in taxes is meaningless because no one of us ever saw a billion dollars and therefore we don't have any idea what it means. But all of us especially our wives, know what we spend over the counter, and by comparing one sum with the other we can get a pretty good idea of what these taxes mean to us.

In the chart, the total annual volume of national retail sales is for 1942, while the tax figures are for the fiscal year 1943. However, retail sales have not changed so much as to affect the comparison fundamentally.

PLANE TALK

BY Rowland Burnstan

The helicopter is a type of aircraft that has received considerable publicity during the last two years. Contrary to general opinion, it is a device that has been known and experimented with by aeronautical engineers for at least thirty years.



In some instances it is similar to the autogiro, primarily in that it has a large rotor, or blades, which act as airfoils and provide the lift. Motion forward, backward, sideways, etc., is controlled by changing the pitch of the rotor blades. The chief respect in which it differs from the airplane and autogiro is that it does not have the conventional type of propeller or airscrew to pull it through the air, and the airfoils, or lifting blades, are mechanically revolved for flight.

The helicopter has advantages over the airplane and autogiro in that it can ascend and descend vertically, or it can hover at a fixed point in the air.

Congressional Champions of Brand Names

Evidence that the preservation of our system of brand names and trade marks transcends political party lines is found in the cooperative action of (above left) Charles E. Halleck (R. Ind.) and (right) Lyle H. Boren (D. Okla.) The Boren-Halleck subcommittee of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce has vigorously resisted all efforts to initiate a system of standardized grading in lieu of brand names and trade marks. Representative Boren checks with Representative Halleck that "the campaign to destroy the benefits of our system of brand names and trade marks is a threat to the quality of everything we eat, everything we wear and everything going into the home. Under this system has come mass production and large-scale employment. Under it manufacturers produce with pride, stores sell with satisfaction, and consumers buy with confidence."

LOOKING AHEAD

Grafted Stock

By GEORGE S BENSON
President of Harding College

PRIDE OF RACE is something America has never developed to a high degree because it is peopled with so many different races. Just the same, Americans have every right to pride in fine heritage. Edmond E. Lincoln recently put it in a few words. He said "America has been developed by the most courageous, industrious and honorable peoples of the earth. We have built up from the best of the best foreign countries."

Some people have come to the United States who did us no good. Mr. Lincoln does not dispute this. He makes it plain, however, that all of America's early settlers and most of the immigrants who came later, so different outwardly, were a lot alike inside; and, in important ways. They were brave, honest, hard - working, God - fearing folk. All they lacked was getting used to one another, and that has largely been done.

National Stability PRODUCTS of hard work and honesty, so valuable to individuals, also give strength to nations. Half of the people in America own the homes in which they live; that's national stability. More than one person out of five in this country has a savings account in the bank. One American in 14 owns shares in some corporation, and 68 million (more than half of us) have insurance. None of these things could be said truthfully of any other country on earth.

In America we are short on heraldry but we are long on bathtubs. Free to live our lives in any honorable manner, and quick to learn new things from one another, the families of America constantly grow more alike in habits and in aims. Thus living standards rise and American culture advances far beyond that of old-world races, cramped by pointless restraints and crippled by mysterious grudges over long-forgotten disputes.

Freedom Can Live MR. LINCOLN says, "For several specific reasons, it does not seem probable that the United States will finally succumb to subversive influences which have been exerting themselves from abroad." Seeking religious liberty, political freedom, and economic rights, the pioneers of America fled Europe because even then they could see, at least dimly, calamities that later came upon it. They quit all European classes and became individuals.

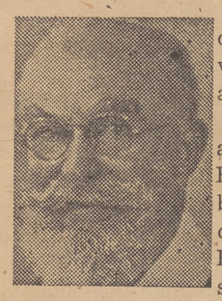
Eleven years in other lands made me glad to be an American. I could never advocate ignoring the rest of the world because we can help people everywhere, and it is no less than our duty. Just the same no isolationist could be farther than I from transplanting foreign feuds in America. The surest way to make ourselves useless at home and abroad is to pollute our freedom with philosophies excluded by the founders of this free country.

A dominantly strong centralized government of the European type is a first-rate example. Nothing could be more deadly to the American way of life, no plague more completely blighting to Democracy, than a government in Washington overruling the private lives of citizens. It is completely foreign to American ideals. Permitted to operate unrestrained it will destroy our prosperity, our freedom and finally ambition itself.

"Public" Libraries

By George Starr White, M. D.

The word "public", according to the dictionary, means "open to all", in contradistinction to "private". It also signifies that the building, institution, or street is maintained by and for the PUBLIC!



Geo. Starr White

A PRIVATE Library is one owned and operated by a private person or society, or association.

Nearly all cities have what are named "PUBLIC LIBRARIES". They are maintained by the tax-payers, or public donations, and are free to the PUBLIC. Such libraries are supposed to carry books that are of PUBLIC interest. They are not supposed to be conducted to please this or that cult or religion; neither is a PUBLIC library supposed to carry only such books as this or that political gang may designate.

"Freedom of the Press" signifies that what is printed by the Public Press is suitable for a Public Library, be such printed matter in newspaper sheets or in bound books.

I have been writing for the Public Press for sixty-five years. I have been writing books of all sizes, and on many subjects for over fifty years. I write my books to help others to see the light in living healthy lives, so they will not be slaves to doctors of any kind. Incidentally my books are to keep their readers from the undertakers as long as possible!

My work has been such that I have met in public as well as in private ways, people from every part of this globe. From such "contacts" I have been able to write books that will help those whose lives have been no more secluded than that of a "movie star", or a "falling star" from the heavens.

Thousands of my books have been circulated in libraries in all parts of the world and in very many different languages. Some large libraries have given me a "standing order" for several copies of each book as soon as it is published.

One of the largest publishing houses in this country told me several years ago that they would like to publish all my books and give me a "royalty" on same, but they would have to "edit" them so nothing would be in them that might "offend organized medicine".

I print in my books the statement that I belong to no society or association that attempts to tell its members what they may or may not write.

From time to time reports have reached me that this and that "Public" Library always reported that my books were "out", but some would be "due" soon. As these reports happened to come from some very large "Public" Libraries, to whom we had sent as many as fifty or more copies of certain books, we started an "investigation". Soon we learned that the heads of the medical societies had told the political heads of these large "Public" Libraries that the doctors had to make a living and had to pay taxes, but that the reading of my books tended to cut down their yearly income, so they demanded that my books be kept "out of circulation".

"Browbeaters" in any political organization can attempt to intimidate office holders, and the weaker the individual is, the more easily he is frightened. The weaker the foundations of any organization are the more easily such foundations are shaken and the walls of such institutions crack from every wind that blows against their sides.

My observations and those of my friends from far and near indicate that the Medical Political Gangsters are shaking in their boots, so the institutions that keep them from starving are also trembling.

"The handwriting is on the wall" of all grocery stores, and so-called "health stores" and drug stores, and auto-courts and "do-nut shops" and "pop booths". This "hand writing" is in the form of posters, both large and small, telling those who can read that such and such symptoms indicate this and that unhealth and that this and that "vitamin" is the required remedy!

The same great medical laboratories that make all kinds of serums and "punches" for the medical profession, both "ethical" and "non-ethical", are back of this world-wide "vitamin propaganda". The "goose" that has laid the golden eggs to support these great laboratories is none other than "The Medical Geese" which are being starved to death by the very laboratories that have been supported by them!

Eventually, why not now? Organized medicine will be crushed by those who have built the institutions for them! The "term-ites" and the "ter-mites" are at work and the cracks in the walls of their institutions builded on the sand of "politics" are getting larger and larger.

Independent practitioners of the HEALING (not heeling) ART awake yourselves! Look for positions that are opening for those outside of the Medical Union—the Medical Octopus!

Good THOUGHT

Good WORD — Good DEED

What to Do in Emergencies

Few people get themselves into tighter spots than I do. To dare intelligently is quite different from daring stupidly; this difference with its distinction, is the difference between success and failure.

I have taught myself not to dare except when I find confirmation in my own heart and intelligence that the thing I am daring to do is the thing I must do and be true to principle. This is very different from boldness and arrogance that is not motivated by the truth.

I am a born LEO, or lover, and all my strenght lies in the unique capacity I have to concentrate all my being on loving, to the exclusion of everything else. Having discovered this in myself, naturally, I make full use of it. But I find the injunction given in both Hebrew and Christian sacred scriptures that the highest commandment is to love the Lord, our God, with all our might, and the neighbor as myself.

Evidently, the power of love is not confined to the LEO people but is the power that leads to salvation, or damnation, for everybody.

Whenever I am in doubt, or in fear, I resort to the simple expedient of searching my heart whether I love God with all my might, or something else, or someone else more. This insures that expedient and principle coincide. Those who reject principle and elect expedient measures, contrary to principle, of course lose their way, become lost souls.

If I find that I am not placing my faith in the love of God, but am striving contrary to it, I train myself to change about.

Whether Jew or Christian, Mohammedan or Brahman, every true religion teaches the same rule. It is by far more sensible to practice this self-discipline and search yourself to be true, than to embark on experiments which lead to painful, useless and fatal experiences that embroil you and the world in murderous chaos.

Try it and learn the art of self-government. Only he that governs himself, conquers his own spirit, lives up to his own religion, is really a free and a responsible being. When I forget everything but love God, I am not worried about consequences!

—B—

The Birthday of Jesus, the Christ

Christianity is Theocracy. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of Heaven", is the first Rule of Christianity. The first commandment is to love God with all your might and being.

Where God rules there is Love, Peace, Well-being, Health, Happiness, Wisdom and Power.

While the ignorant must fear God, the Christian overcomes fear by loving God and thus learns what to do so he break no law and has nothing to fear.

Driving out fear by Beelzebub is a very disastrous thing. All inoculations by medical science of voodooism are such malpractice. Nobody would permit inoculations of filth into his bloodstream, except that he is afraid not to.

The advent of the Christ in our lives is the realization that we have a heavenly Father and that He genuinely is Our Father. To discover the nature of God in ourselves, this is the birth of the Christ in us, for as the Father is perfect, so must the children be, and unless they are of the same Essence as the Father, they could not be His children.

The mission of every Son of God is to bring home to us the truth of the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

Every synagogue, synode, conference and board of organized churches is opposed to the Rule of God. It makes absolutely no difference what creed they profess. The Elders prefer to rule in place of God and substitute their opinions for the Rule of God, commencing with the query: "But what is Truth?" As a result none can find God in any church organization and none of them represents the Kingdom of God on earth.

Religion is an individual relationship. No collective bargaining is involved. Wherever people organize to bargain with God collectively, religion flies out the window of their hearts and self-pride sprouts.

Religion is the re-union of the child with the Father, an individual affair and experience. No creeds, rules, rituals and dogmas are needed. Of course, that does away with all rackets and places you on your own. The irresponsible prefers to belong to an organization and lets the heads of the organization bargain collectively with the Almighty to admit the gang to heaven upon payment of a fee, or performance of a ritual or acceptance of a creed nobody understands. Thus the Hocuspocus peddlers reap their harvest.

Jesus was one of the long line of Saviours who came to earth to remind humanity again and again of the Fatherhood of God. Each pupil has to learn to say: "I am the son of God", and live accordingly. Naturally, the racketeers prefer to deny this and make believe that Jesus is the only son of God and they, the racketeers, have received the Keys to heaven in apostolic succession. But the Key is: "I am the son of God", and if you believe and realize it in your daily life, you enter into the power of heaven.

Every pupil must learn to say and realize: "I am the Christ", and henceforth live accordingly, for the eyes of flesh cannot reveal it to you but only the Father who is in heaven. You have to find the Christ in yourself for the Kingdom of God is within you.

The Christ is the sense of compassion: the love that understands the life of other beings and loves to help them find fulfillment of their deepest longings.

Jesus came to bring home to us: the heavenly home where we find Father. "Love ye therefore one another even as I love you, for if you do not love your neighbor whom you see, how can you love God whom you have never seen?! And where two or three come together in this Love I am among them".

This Love is the Christ. It will rather shed its blood and let the body be broken than lift its hand to kill a brother. Such is the Christ-Love.

As to the birth of Jesus, all authorities agree that he was born in the springtime and on the cusp. The question is, which cusp? Since no record exists one had to work backwards to establish the date. By analytic processes it was found that he could not have possibly been born on any other day than the 23rd of May. Historic events were sifted and the characteristics of the man considered. When by triangulation, all of the calculations focussed on the cusp of Taurus and Gemini, it was thus fixed as his birth-day.

He could not have been Semitic because he was no trader. He stood for principle and never bartered. The Semite trades, barters away or expects to buy his birthright. Jesus refused to give up what the Father had placed in his hand already.

There are many ways of establishing and reconstructing the truth and facts about his life and teachings. Only those who, like himself, elect to give their lives to the exclusive service of the Kingdom of Heaven on Earth, are able to perceive the fullness of his character. To the rest he is a mythical or super-natural being and his saga is exploited to catch suckers and enslave them spiritually, mentally, physically and drive them to murder each other, and pray for victory.

The followers of the Christ are naturally theocrats, they elect to obey the Rule of God and need not be kept in line by force. They are individualists because no man is good enough to rule over another. They come together as equals and consult with one another as friends. The highest intelligence prevails and all accept its plan in public affairs. A public affair is a res publica (Latin). Thus the Christian republican way of dealing with public matters is based in the individual recognition and voluntary execution of the highest intelligence, governing the conduct of daily life.

The republic of the future is the Theocratic Republic in clearcut, definite distinction from Democracy. Democracy is mobrule, and not the rule of the highest intelligence: the ignorant mass votes, quality is ignored, numbers count.

In these U. S. A. we all take an oath of loyalty to the Republic in the name of God. The oath closes with the words: "So help me God". Thus our guide is God, which makes it a Theocratic Republic.

Nominally we are a theocratic republic today, in practice we have done away with the Ten Commandments as well as with the Christ and substituted the "rule of emergency". Naturally such a rule thrives upon emergencies and we shall experience one long chain of hell and destruction of all that is true, noble, wholesome and sane.

FREEDOM IN THE MAKING

Smoking a cigarette after coffee, Roosevelt leaned back and said casually:

"You know, I had a funny dream last night. I dreamed that God had appointed me President of the United Nations".

There was an embarrassing pause and then Churchill waved his cigar, coughed and said:

"You know, that's a strange coincidence. I had a dream, too. I dreamed that God had appointed me Premier of the United Nations."

Stalin leaned back, unperturbed, took his pipe out of his mouth and said:

"You know I had a dream too last night, but I don't remember appointing anyone to anything."

And the other two felt quite crestfallen, suddenly!

A man applied for a job, the federal authorities asked us what we knew about him. We made our report and he did not get on the payroll.

SENDS $1 FOR ROBERT NOBLE

Dear Mr. Aryan:

It is quite a long time that I took into my mind to write to you; and it is account of being hurt so bad from one of the Motormen of the L. A. Street-car Company, that I still spend many nights sleepless in coughing until my chest becomes clean again; so that I'm able to sleep some.

I send you $3.00 for a year's Subscription to your valuable paper the "Broom"; and I send another one to a man that hates me from the bottom of his heart, Mr. Robert Noble. Please, Mr. Aryan tell him, this is from the Apostle that he ridiculed and made fun of about his long flowing hair and beard. Tell him that he does not hold any ill feeling against him; for this man knows that he did that in his dark ignorance. I like to do more for him, but being hurt so bad inwardly that I can not work now, he should over-look it.

Well, Mr. Aryan; I thank our Lord that the Adversary has not a thing on you, so keep sweeping on so clean as you can. For everybody that wants to keep any kind of house must have a broom.

Your Brother of His Kingdom called ISRAEL.

Weinberger Wants More

Broom into that kind of a paper.

When Judge Jacob Weinberger announced his candidacy to succeed himself I received a letter from Judge Shell announcing his candidacy against Weinberger, also an order for political advertising. I was really amazed.

Did Joe Shell not know that to advertise in The Broom was considered by the hysteria ridden minds to be political suicide? To advertise in that "Nazi" paper?!

But I put the announcement in and the adv. Never said a word about Weinberger being Jewish, for I had promised Marion Fay not to bait the Jews, and even though she broke our friendship I accept the benefit of good thought. And now the nation can see how San Diego solves the Jewish and New Deal problems, the American Way.

We let Weinberger have all the rope he needed to hang himself. Why incite against him if letting him have his way he'd expose his true nature?! Same as we did with the labor racketeers who beat me up and threw me in the bay. I had no witnesses, they convicted themselves.

No sooner did Shell's announcement and adv. appear in The Broom than a member of B'nai B'rith got busy spreading the rumor that Shell was anti-Semitic and unpatriotic because he advertised in The Broom. When confronted with it Shell replied: "As a judge I have sworn to execute the laws of the State and of the U. S. in conformity with the Constitution. I shall protect the rights of all minorities, be they Negroes, Mexicans, Chinese, Japs or Jews.. I shall give each his rights, but NO MORE."

And he gave a Jap his rights, and no more, when he ruled the white tenant evicted who had broken into the storage room of the Japanese and looted it.

But Weinberger wanted more than his rights. He claimed that the 5 judges on the Superior Bench had voted confidence into his qualifications as a judge, to be used as a political endorsement against any opponent, when they appointed him presiding judge. But it was a mere routine measure, motivated by colleagueal courtesy to give the green member a chance to learn the ropes.

The moment the B'nai B'rith raised the race issue and pointed to The Broom, while Weinberger abused the colleagueal courtesy of his fellow members on the bench, the people who resent Jewish overbearing and trickery, were not afraid to register their sentiments in the privacy of the polling booths. They knew why de Aryan had been taken to Washington in chains, they knew that Joe Shell had expressed the right attitude: "Give the Jews their rights under our Constitution, but NO MORE", and so the Superior Court of San Diego has been unpacked of one New Deal judge.

Joe Shell won the election handsomely and advertising in The Broom is not political suicide in this city and county.

JIM ROBBINS ADVERTISED

Another advertiser made the ticket by just the right margin. I had warned John Faddis, incumbent supervisor, that the readers of The Broom were watching the advertising columns and would vote accordingly. Faddis did not advertise but Robbins did, and I had not even asked Robbins since I had helped defeat him 4 years ago.

Mrs. Daley did not insert an advertisement even though she had given us her announcements as had Robbins, Shell and others. She ruined her nomination on the Republican ticket for Congress when she told a meeting of Democrats that she was forced to register Republican because she had lost the Democratic support for the state assembly two years ago. Republicans don't want anybody to forcibly register Republican. They want only Republicans who are Republicans from their own convictions. Mrs. Daley, who would have had a nip and tuck chance against Abbey, simply put herself out of the running with that remark as soon as it was published in the daily press.

James Abbey won the Republican nomination for Congress and we hope he'll supplant the Newdeal rubberstamp Ed Izac (ne Isaacs) as the representative from San Diego county, the American way, when the ballots are counted in November.

"Let's give everybody his right, and no more!" is more powerful than the endorsement of the local Bar Association in favor of Jake Weinberger.

Since the court bill defeat, the number of federal District Court appointments has been greater in almost every year than in previous years. That is the result of legislation, passed while the main court bill was being defeated, which gave federal judges the right of retirement at 70 at full pay. Many have taken advantage of the privilege. Approximately 75 per cent of the sitting judges in federal court and circuit courts are Roosevelt appointees, in addition to seven of the nine members of the U. S. Supreme Court.

FEDERAL CITY

SLAVES, IF NO FREE SPEECH . . . . .
WHAT G. O. P. SHOULD DO . . . .
NEED FOR CAUCUSES

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON,—If there is one thing that a New Deal Bolshevik cannot stand, it is FREEDOM OF SPEECH. If these "Dealers" had lived in the time of Wendell Phillips, the great Anti--Slavery orator, they would have wanted to murder him—or at least indict him—for giving utterance to the following inspiring words:

"No matter whose lips that would speak, they must be free and ungagged. The community which does not protect its humblest and most hated member in the free utterance of his opinions, no matter how false and hateful, is only a gang of slaves. If there is anything in the universe that can't stand discussion, let it crack."

* * *

DUTY OF G. O. P. IN CONGRESS

States of our Union with more than three-fourths of our population, now have Republican governors and Republian legislatures. Nearly three-fourths of the Congressmen from the G. O. P. territory of 100 million population in the North and West are Republicans.

These are hopeful and inspiring figures, but the "spell" which the Fourth Termer holds over the "dregs" and the "flotsam and jetsam" of our American society and the money available to the New Deal oligarchy for the "purchase of boob votes" are elements of the gravest danger to our republican form of government.

Remember, dear reader, as Senator Johnson of Colorado warned us, we have passed the crossroads and our once-great, almost bankrupt, Republic is on the downgrade turnpike toward totalitarianism, militarism and permanent despotism.

It will take a constant campaign of education and herculean efforts to turn back.

Republican members of both House and Senate should HOLD CAUCUSES ONCE A WEEK. Sometimes there should be joint caucuses.

Let there be held vigorous debates on party measures and methods. Something in the nature of a "town meeting" should be frequently featured. Call in great and able Americans to give educational lectures.

Invite Prof. Zechariah Chafee of Harvard Law School to lecture on "Free Speech"; also Prof. Ackerman of Columbia University. They will show how the New Deal hypocrites have "frozen the free speech" of America.

Friendly columnists, editorial writers and radio commentators, such as Col. Robert R. McCormick, Upton Close, Rupert Hughes, Fulton Lewis, Jr., Boake Carter, Benjamin de Casseres, George Sokolsky, leading Republican governors, prominent manufacturers, etc., could give valuable platform suggestions and ideas for campaign success.

The writer is willing to give an address on the subject of the New Deal's 100 violations of the Constitution, and to outline suggested Amendments to our Charter of Liberties.

I understand that the Republican House members have held only a few caucuses in TWELVE YEARS.

Let a series of reform bills be drawn up, revised in caucus, presented in Congress, then go before the people in the campaign to urge their adoption (after the measures have been recommended in the platform).

This is a POSITIVE PROGRAM. It has not been done for many decades. The country is ripe for it. The people need it.

The people must be re-taught "self-government". Too long have they been the slaves of New Deal despotism, a government of men and not of laws.

Neither the campaign of Landon in 1936 nor the freak "faux pas" of Willkie in 1940 were "party movements on the part of the people". Willkie never mentioned the platform! He ran for the position of "elected dictator", and gave every appearance of becoming a poor one. Even the "morons" laughed at him.

We must show the public that WE THE PEOPLE MUST ONCE AGAIN RULE. Our Presidential candidate must be our servant; he must agree to bow to and carry out our wishes, as a "good executive" and NOT be a dictator (as Mr. Roosevelt and his "palace guard" oligarchy have been for nearly twelve years).

The campaign must NOT be turned over to ONE MAN—the candidate. THIS WOULD BE "ONE MAN GOVERNMENT". We've had enough of that.

We must fight the New Deal foreign policy—"of foreigners, for foreigners and by foreigners". We must fight for an American foreign policy; for an American domestic policy; for far less extravagance; for far more economy; revision of our attitude toward employers, whom the New Deal has tried to wipe out; for an impartial judiciary, selected by the U. S. Senate; for a reform of the grand jury system (at present but an arm of the prosecution, thus destroying its original purpose); for the G. Washington policy of friendship with all nations and all peoples, partiality for none, as the best means of keeping out of wars.

The New Deal foreign policy means war as an instrument of national policy; means permanent war, with occasional armistices.

* * *

UNCONSCIONABLE EXTRAVAGANCE

These title words are too long, meaning extravagance beyond all reason and conscience. Perhaps the two words, "vicious waste", would do just as well.

They refer to the political crackpots, crooks, curmudgeons, bolo bureaucrats, and glorified grafters who have almost ruined the finances of our nation.

If there is a regime in world history that approached within a thousand million miles of the New Deal bolshevik outfit in waste and extravagance, I have never read or heard of it.

The Republicans finally succeeded this month in holding the national debt limit down to 240 BILLIONS ($240,000,000,000.), although the "Dealers" wanted it lifted to $300 BILLIONS. (A figure beyond their mental grasp!).

The World Almanac listed America's total national wealth (all our gold and silver, all our railroads, factories, lands, houses, ships, machinery and every thing) at $225 BILLIONS a few years ago. We are probably poorer today.

We shall shortly OWE MORE THAN WE OWN. This has always been dangerous ground for nations and individuals. In individuals it has usually been the prelude to bankruptcy. Nations have gone bankrupt, although still OWNING MORE THAN THEY OWED.

For lack of a strong, fighting OPPOSITION PARTY in Congress, there was no "brake" on New Deal Bolshevik nonsense, so these "foreign dealers" went to town in sacking the American Republic. Here are a few samples:

The "Pentagon" War Department building in Arlington was planned to cost $35 millions—a figure beyond all need, unless we had 500 million population and expected to RULE THE WORLD with a permanent army of ten million soldiers..

But when these wild wasters got through building it, the cost was around $80 MILLIONS !

A "cantonment" that cost $10 millions in the first World War was planned for rebuilding at $20 Millions, but wound up costing $40 millions!

These "Dealers" wanted an office of "war propaganda", under one of their stooges, Elmer Davis (the Oxford grad). George Creel operated such an outfit in W. W. I., at a cost of only a few millions.

The new war information bureau of these "Dealers" COST $130 BILLIONS in just ONE year, OR MORE THAN IT COST TO RUN THE LEGISLATIVE AND JUDICIARY DIVISIONS OF OUR GOVERNMENT ! ! !

Our national debt is said to be approaching a figure which exceeds the total combined national debts of all nations on earth for 1000 years prior to the year 1900.

Communists believe that such a debt can be handled only by COMMUNISM!

Trial of the Republic Has Stormy Start

WASHINGTON,—Fresh verbal uproar, requiring the calling of U. S. marshals, broke out in federal district court as Chief Prosecutor O. John Rogge sought to begin his statement of the government's case against 29 persons charged with conspiring to establish a Nazi form of government in this country.

Rogge made three starts "may it please the court—" but each time the shouting of defense attorneys seeking to make statements drowned him out. Lawyers were jumping up on all sides demanding to be heard.

Presiding Justice Edward C. Eicher pounded furiously with his gavel.

World Plot Charged

"Mr. Rogge may proceed," he said.

When the tumult continued, the trial judge ordered marshals to "restore order and require all attorneys except Mr. Rogge to be seated."

Rogge told the jury, selected after more than four weeks of court skirmishes, that the evidence "will show that the defendants joined a worldwide Nazi movement and that they wanted to substitute a Nazi form of government for our present form of government".

"To bring about this Nazi revolution," he continued, "the defendants intended to and did use the same methods that the Nazis had already successfully used in Germany. They engaged in a systematic propaganda campaign inciting people to hatred of our present form of government and to hatred of certain groups and classes."

Republican Protests

Defense attorneys continued to object, but Eicher said they would not be heard until after Rogge had finished.

The cry of "That's a damn lie" came from defendant Robert Noble, and brought a pounding of Judge Edward C. Eicher's gavel. Most frequent interruptions came, however, from Edward James Smythe, another defendant.

"I'm a Republican, not a Nazi!" Smythe roared out at one point.

Rogge called the defendants' "prerevolutionary phase" an attempt to "disintegrate and soften the social structure" with a mass propaganda campaign to "incite people to hatred".

This statement drew roars of "I object!" and marshals scurried about to seat forcibly a dozen defense attorneys, while defendant Edward James Smythe boomed, "we hate the Communists!"

The defendants chanted "who? who?" when Rogge said that they had chosen a fuehrer. They howled in laughter when he described defendant Lawrence Dennis as "the Alfred Rosenberg of the movement in this country." Lois de Lafayette Washburn at one point stood up, leveled a finger at someone on the public bench and screamed, "there's another government stooge. Throw him out."

The Jurors appeared stunned by the tumult. They had been dismissed from the courtroom during previous uproars and today's session was their first exposure to the clamorous nature of the proceedings.

Smythe, Rogge said, was "an early collaborator in the distribution of bund literature."

"Right," Smythe affirmed.

Describing the National Workers league, Rogge said that it cooperated with the bund, that the bund cooperated with the Ku Klux Klan, and that the three held a joint meeting in New Jersey in 1940. "The person arranging the joint meeting was Edward Jones Smythe," he added.

"Three cheers," roared Smythe.

Rogge said that Ellis O. Jones and Robert Noble, organizers of the Friends of Progress, addressed a meeting held after Pearl Harbor at which Noble said that "Pearl Harbor was not a part of the United States and that the United States had not been attacked." Jones, Rogge said, praised the Japanese for "doing a grand job".

Rogge concluded by stating that the evidence would show that the defendants "spread hatred against the Jews, prejudice against the Negroes, fear of the Communists, and distrust of our public officials."

SMYTHE TO GET MENTAL TEST

Justice Edward Eicher has ruled that Edward James Smythe, one of the defendants in the mass sedition trial, may be given a mental examination by Dr. Joseph Gilbert, Dr. Alcibiades Peretti and a psychiatrist of Smythe's own choosing. The ruling was the result of a motion filed by Smythe's attorney, James J. Laughlin.

———B———

JEWS NOT BARRED FROM TRIAL JURY

WASHINGTON,— The demand by some of the sedition trial defense attorneys that Jews be barred from the jury, was made. This too was waved away by the Judge. The motion to bar Jews from the jury came from J. Austin Latimer, counsel for James True and George Deatherage, and was supported by lawyers Ira Chase Koehne, who has charged over and over again that the Anti-Defamation League was "behind the trial", Ethelbert B. Frey and Henry H. Klein. Latimer said that "I do not think that any juror who is of Semite blood can fairly sit on this case."

However, on this motion a rift appeared among the defendants. Lawrence Dennis, who took over his own defense after firing his attorney, rose to declare: "I do not associate myself with any challenger as to race or religion of jurors." His view was supported by Ben Lindas, attorney for George Sylvester Viereck, and Frank J. Kelly, defending Prescott Bennett. These three defendants associate very little with the others.
